Dear Margaret Ann:

I have just had forwarded to me your letter to Arthur Koestler. I know he has been extremely busy since he returned. He wrote me briefly and said that. Of course, I wish he had had time to write you, but in any case, I am glad to see your letter and I hope you do not mind. I should like to keep it, for it is a very fine letter. What you say in it about me and my work makes me feel very grateful.

Of course, I remember you; I think I have a picture of you, taken along with me as we posed for a test for somebody's article or book. One of these times when you are not too busy, drop in and tell me how you got along with your article. I do not get to see the Chronicle regularly and perhaps it has already come out and I have missed it. I should not want to do that.

If you have not yet finished it, perhaps you could wait for Mr. Koestler's published comment on his visit to Duke. He wrote me he was bringing out an article in Britain about it and would send me a copy. I could let you have it right away if it comes.

Perhaps you know that he has written about ESP in his book THE SLEEPWALKERS and in one of the earlier books of essays; I cannot remember which one although I dimly recall it was something like INSIGHT AND OUTLOOK.

Sincerely yours,

J. B. Rhine
